

NEW TARIFF BILL
HITS WISCONSIN.

ELOQUENT SPEECH BY A BAD-GER STATE REPUBLICAN.

He Shows That the Farming and Manufacturing Interests of the Country Were Not Properly Represented On the Present Ways and Means Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—George B. Shaw's first set speech in congress has won the Wisconsin congressman much praise. It was made last night and attacked the Wilson bill for its unfairness to the northwest. Mr. Shaw showed that the farming and manufacturing interests of the country were not properly represented on the ways and means committee, which, by its personnel, was incapable of revising the tariff. Mr. Henderson (rep.) of Iowa offered as an amendment to the agricultural schedule of the Wilson bill the corresponding schedule of the McKinley law. Mr. Henderson's speech was largely directed to a reply to the recent speeches of Mr. Cockran (dem., N. Y.). He was most earnestly against an issue of bonds. "Not a bond will I vote for," said Mr. Henderson emphatically. "Give the country a chance," he said in conclusion, "and it will come around all right; it is strong, powerful and rich."

Great applause greeted Mr. Henderson as he took his seat after having declined an extension of time.

The debate drifted along in a desultory way for some time, and was taken part in by Mr. Hall (rep., Iowa), Mr. Springer (dem., Ill.), Mr. McKelhan (ind., Neb.), Mr. Blair (rep., N. H.), and Mr. Hucheson (dem., Texas).

Mr. Tawney (rep., Minn.) addressed the committee on the subject of barley, arguing that the existing rate should be inserted instead of that proposed in the pending bill. Mr. Tawney said the McKinley act had practically excluded Canadian barley, and American farmers were growing and selling to-day from 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels more barley every year than they had done prior to the McKinley act.

The funny speech of the day was made just at the close of the session by Mr. Clark (dem., Mo.) and it was punctuated by laughter and applause on the democratic side, in which the republicans occasionally joined. He ridiculed the idea of protection and idealized the theory of free trade as the only policy under which a nation could be truly great.

Then Mr. Bowers (rep., Cal.) spoke. He took as his text the remark of Clark that there were not enough republicans left for seed, and asserted that it did not require a very large sowing of seed to produce a magnificent crop of republicans, as witness the recent elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Iowa.

SHOULD RETAIN THEIR PENSIONS.

Bill to Remove Disabilities of Confederates Who Served in Previous Wars.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Mr. Moses of Georgia, from the committee on pensions, has reported to the house his bill repealing the section of the revised statutes which provides that no money on account of pensions shall be paid to any person, or to the widow, children or heirs of any deceased person, who in manner voluntarily engaged in or aided or abetted the late rebellion against the authority of the United States. In the report recommending the passage of the bill Mr. Moses says that the inhibition prescribed in this section affects such persons as incurred wounds, injuries or disabilities while in the service of the United States during the Indian, Mexican or other old wars, and who subsequently served in or otherwise aided the cause of the south during the civil war. These persons, no matter how arduous or momentous their services to the government were in these old wars, are absolutely cut off from an allowance of pension on account of disability arising in the line of duty. The widow, too, is denied the pension represented by the rank held by the soldier at the time he incurred the fatal disability in the old war service, unless she can show that she did not aid or abet the rebellion against the United States during the late war.

To discriminate against the soldier who lost an arm or a leg or was otherwise disabled while fighting the Indians or Mexicans was, in the unanimous judgment of the committee, an act of great injustice, which should be remedied with the least possible delay. If subsequent service in the cause of the confederacy was not to be held against a service pension it surely should not be held against the soldier who left a limb on the battlefield nor against the widows of those whose old war service resulted in their death. There could not be many now living who would be benefited by the proposed action, and in the judgment of the committee the passage of the bill would be but an act of justice to a small but deserving class.

No Suffering Among the Indians

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The statement that extreme suffering exists among the Indians at the Pine Ridge agency is discredited at the bureau of Indian affairs. The officials ridicule the assertions that Indians are "dying off like sheep." If there is any extended amount of suffering or a remarkably large death list, it is stated, an official report on the subject would be sent to the bureau at once.

TO FORM A REPUBLIC.

Hawaii Soon to Have an Independent Government.

HONOLULU, Jan. 20.—There is no important change in public affairs. It is privately learned that a new constitution is all ready to be promulgated at the proper time. Chinese laborers are to be imported until Japan is ready to continue the supply on satisfactory terms. It seems to be definitely ascertained that for several weeks past and prior to Thurston's visit the government has been working out a form of constitution for an independent Hawaiian republic, which is now substantially settled upon. Its form is like those of the states of the Union, with President and Vice-President and upper and lower houses of the legislature. For voters for the lower house the chief qualification is ability to read and write the English language, which will exclude most of the Japanese. In this house the native and half-white vote will greatly predominate. Certain special powers will be conferred upon the executive and upper house, acting in concert, which will enable them, when well agreed, to prevent the obstruction of necessary legislation by the lower house. Under this constitution the native element will possess all share in legislation which it has ever possessed, while royal and executive power will practically be transferred to the control of the more intelligent and capable white population.

The planters have asked the government for permission to introduce a limited number of Chinese laborers. The councils voted to grant their request. During 1894 and 1895 about 9,000 labor contracts will expire and their places need to be filled.

Anarchists After an Editor.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—An explosion occurred last night outside the residence of M. Ducret, the editor of the Cocarde, at Neuilly-sur-Seine, a western suburb of Paris. The explosion made a tremendous noise, but did very slight damage. It is believed that the bomb was loaded with chlorate powder. The police believe that the affair was work of anarchists. M. Ducret was recently released from prison, having been sentenced to one year's imprisonment for his connection with the forgery of documents that were said to have been stolen from the British embassy here. He was pardoned by President Carnot.

Another Respite Is Unlikely.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Gov. Altgeld has set the Painter case for hearing next Thursday. It is understood that this will be Painter's last chance, and if the governor does not see fit to grant a commutation of sentence to imprisonment for life, which is improbable, Painter will be hanged Friday next. It is unlikely that another respite will be granted.

Probably Perished in an Avalanche.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 20.—L. Dollan of this city and a party started a fortnight ago from Golden, B. C., for Steele. He has not since been heard of and it is thought the whole party has perished in an avalanche. Most of the party are from Winnipeg, but their names cannot be obtained.

Wills His Property to Sioux City.

SIoux CITY, Iowa, Jan. 20.—D. H. Talbot, who has a tract of 4,000 acres of land along the Sioux river and within the city limits has made a will in which he bequeaths the entire property to the city at his death. Nine hundred and sixty acres are to be used for park purposes and the rest to be disposed of as the city may see fit. The property is worth fully $100 an acre.

Silver League Organized.

HOT SPRINGS, S. D., Jan. 20.—A silver league has been organized in this city with several members, who pledge themselves not to vote for any man for office unless he will obligate himself to support the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. They will hold weekly meetings in the council chamber of the city hall and invite a free discussion of the question.

Much Needed Rain in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 20.—The first general rain for over three months fell throughout eastern Kansas and western Missouri last night. It was badly needed, and especially on the farms and in the small towns, for most of the creeks were dry and cisterns empty. The weather was not cold and there was no sleet.

Crispi Not Alarmed by Sicilian Affairs.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—At an interview with Deputy Delucnie Premier Crispi is quoted as saying that he thought the affairs of Sicily would be settled by the mobilization of the troops and they should alarm nobody.

Jockey Identified a Murderer.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 20.—Jockey Goedert, who rode at Saratoga in 1889, identified Tom Connors, arrested as a vagrant as a man who murdered a fellow rubber on the track with a pitchfork and escaped.

$138,586 Paid in Sugar Bounties.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—It costs the government $138,586 to pay the bounty on sugar during the fiscal year of 1893. Of this amount that paid for additional deputies, clerks and employees was $97,890, and that paid for sugar inspectors $30,260.

Medal Awarded to Gen. Carr.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—A medal of honor has been awarded to Gen. Eugene A. Carr for distinguished services at the battle of Pea Ridge.

TWO GHASTLY TALES
IN NEAR-BY TOWNS.

LITTLE JENNIE O'NEIL BLOWS HER HEAD OPEN.

To Avoid Being Fined Ten Dollars "Red" Holtz Hangs Himself In a Jail Cell at Darlington—He Had Smashed All the Furniture and Broke Up the Stove.

STROUGHTON, Jan. 20.—Ten year old Jennie O'Neil, whose parents live on the Byrnes farm near Oregon, met death while alone in the house. She was having a chamber room fixed up for her special use, and upon her return from school, went to see the improvements made. A gun belonging to her father was in the room, and she childlike did not want it there. She started to carry it downstairs, when it fell from her grasp, sliding down the stairs with sufficient force to discharge it. The charge took effect in the girl's face producing two ghastly wounds in forehead and mouth through which the life blood soon ebbed.

Suicided To Dodge a Ten Dollar Fine.

MONROE, Jan. 20.—Nicholas Holtz, of Lafayette county, better known as "Red" Nick Holtz, was arrested at Mineral Point for being drunk and disorderly. The night of his arrest he amused himself by smashing the chairs, stove, bed and everything else that was breakable in his cell. After he had settled his drunk and disorderly costs, the city authorities decided they would call the desperado to account for his careless handling of the jail furniture. But "Red" Nick fooled the minions of the law, for in the afternoon he ended his wild career by hanging himself with a scarf from a convenient bar in his cell.

A NEGRO HANGED.

Lynched on a Plantation Near Bayou Sara, La.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 20.—An unknown negro was lynched on the Greenwood plantation, owned by Charles Reed, near bayou Sara, in the Parish of West Feliciana, Wednesday night. The negro is believed to have burned the corn-crib on Reed's place. A mob went to the negro's house to give him a beating. The negro threw up the window and shot and killed one man named Roberts, an employee, and wounded a son of Mr. Reed. The negro then attempted to escape, but he was captured and hanged.

TO ENJOIN CARLISLE.

Knights of Labor May Try to Stop the Bond Issue.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 20.—The Knights of Labor, after consultation among the officers present at a meeting last night, sent the following dispatch to J. R. Sovereign, general master workman, Des Moines, Iowa. "Secure counsel and go before the United States Supreme court immediately. Enter injunction proceedings against Carlisle, restraining him from issuing $50,000,000 of bonds. The interests of the people, upon whom the burden of all taxation to pay the interest and principal of the bonds falls, require that you should immediately take this step against the secretary of the treasury, enjoining him from incurring any further debt while the resources of the government, if properly applied, are sufficient to meet all lawful demands."

"JOHN W. HAYES, General Secretary-Treasury, K. of L." In an interview Mr. Sovereign said: "I am satisfied we can secure the injunction if we can only obtain a standing in court. There are certain legal difficulties which have no precedents to be solved, but we think we will attain our purpose."

The petition will be forwarded to Washington to-day.

LA CROSSE SALOONS
FIGHT "THE BEAVER"

SUNDAY CLOSING MOVE TO BE OPPOSED.

Mayor Powell's Hiring of a Detective as Private Secretary Results in the Swearing Out of Warrants Against Four Proprietors of Drinking Places in That Town.

LA CROSSE, Jan. 20.—The war is on. Mayor Powell has followed his numerous threats against saloon keepers with something tangible. He has taken his Sunday closing crusade into the courts and caused warrants to be sworn out for the arrest of three saloon keepers, namely: A. Gilbertson, J. H. Collins, and Otto Wilson.

Justice Homer Daniels, before whom the complaints were made, refused to issue the complaints until complainant had seen the district attorney; he did as told and the attorney said to go ahead, only stipulating that the mayor give the names of his witnesses.

The terms exacted by district attorney, would seem to indicate that he is not in perfect accord with Mayor Powell in this new move. The saloon keepers will fight to the bitter end.

STEVENS TO TESTIFY TO-DAY.

The Investigating Committee Likely to Hear Important Matters.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Ex-Minister Stevens will probably appear before the senate subcommittee to-day. The principal witness before the senate committee yesterday was Prof. William B. Olson of Worcester, Mass. He described in detail the condition of the islands, the causes of the revolution, and the scenes and incidents which occurred at that time. With special reference to the landing of troops, Prof. Olson said he did not think they had the slightest influence, one way or the other, on the revolution. He did not think the native population could maintain a government by themselves, as but few among them were equipped for such duties. If left to themselves the witness believed this people would either go back to barbarism or have an absolute government.

PLANS FOR DEFENSE.

Coughlin's Lawyers Preparing to Present Their Case.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Counsel for the state in the Coughlin trial are resting. The state is now awaiting what developments the presentation of the defense's side of the case may bring. The attorneys for the defense are busy preparing for the opening of their case on Monday. It is not probable that any speech will be made by either Mr. Donahoe or Judge Wing setting forth what they expect to prove or disprove. They will begin at once the presentation of evidence, and it has not yet been decided what witnesses will be first put on the stand. That the defense will make a most bitter attack on the witnesses for the state is expected, but the attorneys for the prosecution are confident the testimony is unimpeachable. The general feeling here is that the jury will disagree.

COLORADO SENATE MAY WIN.

Belief That the Legislature Will Soon Agree to Adjourn.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 20.—Communications from Boulder county were read in the house yesterday condemning the representatives from that county for supporting the sessionists. This caused the members from Boulder county to offer explanations, while other members caused much sport by funny remarks. The senate members held another caucus. It is now believed that an adjournment will soon be reached.

EAMBERGER EXECUTED.

Brutal Murderer of the Kreider Family Hanged at Cando, N. D.

CANDO, N. D., Jan. 20.—Albert F. Eamberger was hanged yesterday about a mile from this place in a deep ravine surrounded by high hills, for the brutal murder on July 6, 1893, of six members of the Kreider family. A tight board fence about six feet high surrounded the scaffold, but the execution was witnessed by thousands of people who climbed the hills and watched every detail of the event.

Farmers to Organize.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—The five great organizations of farmers, the Farmers' alliance, the Industrial union, the Grange, the Farmers' Mutual Benefit association and the Patrons of Industry, are to form a federation to be known as the Farmers' union, if plans made by the alliance at a convention held in Chicago are acceptable to the other organizations. The scheme is a big one and its promoters expect great things from it. The new organization is to be non-partisan, it is claimed, and will devote itself to bettering the condition of the farmers practically and socially.

Berlin Police Were Too Active.

BERLIN, Jan. 20.—Newspapers of this city, commenting upon the riot, and upon the rough usage which the people received at the hands of the police, express the opinion that there was no necessity for this violence, as the unemployed people who had assembled at Friedrichshain were leaving quietly. These newspapers are of the opinion that the attitude of the police was provocative of violence.

MURDERER LECORE IS HANGED.

Hundred From the Scene of His Crime Witnessed the Prosecution.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "The event of the week is the offer of $50,000,000 United States 5 per cent ten-year bonds. The decision of the secretary gives much satisfaction to all who care for a sound currency, because the necessities of the treasury were dangerously strengthening those who urged the issue of $50,000,000 more silver certificates against silver 'seigniorage' to be coined. The gold not represented by certificates has fallen below $70,000,000, the revenue continues to fall below that of last year about $5,000,000 a month, and action in congress on various financial measures is liable at any time to excite doubts whether gold payments can be maintained. Hence replenishment of the gold reserve was necessary to a restoration of confidence and a revival of business. The immediate effects were not great, though London, after selling American securities largely several days, bought to some extent, but if subscriptions for the loan should be free and large it is hoped improvement in trade and industry may be hastened."

"While industrial improvement continues, the gain is slow, and increase in the purchasing power of the people by enlargement of the force at work is in a measure through reduction in wages paid. During the last week dispatches have told of reductions averaging 13 per cent in fifteen iron and steel works and averaging 15 1/2 per cent in eleven textile works, five employing thousands of hands each having reduced wages 20 per cent. Meanwhile twenty-five textile and eleven iron and steel concerns resumed wholly or in part against seventeen textile and four iron concerns stopping or reducing force. The volume of business done has increased in leading branches, but not largely; clearings fall below those of last year for the same week 22.6 per cent, and uncertainty regarding the future as yet prevents the ventures essential to prosperous activity."

"Speculative markets have been weaker, though wheat is 1/2c higher, with increasing stocks and small exports, and corn is 1/2c higher. Cotton has fallen, as receipts continue much larger than a year ago and the demand for consumption is narrow. Lard and coffee are lower, but oil was advanced a cent, with large trading. Prices of stocks were lifted Monday, but depressed by London sales Tuesday and Wednesday, and the quick rise Thursday after the offering of bonds did not last through the day, though progress in reorganizations give some strength. Earnings for January thus far are 13.4 per cent below last year's, and large shipments over trunk lines still fail correspondingly to swell receipts."

"Gain in retail distribution of products is still small, imports at New York show for January thus far a decrease of more than 30 per cent, while in exports hence a gain of $2,300,000, or nearly 20 per cent, appears. There is no thought of a movement of gold, as London sends stocks hither to settle for products. The excess of exports over imports in December was $43,000,000, but the exchanges seemed to foreshadow gold exports. Greater confidence abroad in the financial future would be of especial service in coming months. Idle money constantly accumulates here and trust companies offer six months' loans at 3 per cent yearly, while 1 per cent is the prevailing rate on call."

For a New Distillery at Yankton.

YANKTON, S. D., Jan. 20.—The business men of Yankton have completed negotiations for the establishment of a distillery here. Fifteen acres of land in the city limits were donated and $50,000 subscribed for stock. The distillery will have a capacity of 3,000 bushels of grain daily and will cost $300,000. The company is composed of Peoria distillers and Philadelphia capital.

G. A. R. Man Commits Suicide.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 20.—Harrison O. Steele of New York committed suicide by hanging himself at the home of his brother. His action was due to ill health. He was a prominent member of the G. A. R. and at the time was a preacher.

Treasury Gold Again Reduced.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—A loss of $750,000 in gold since Thursday is shown in the Treasury gold yesterday, the figures being $69,577,847. The currency balance is stated at $21,669,947, less $7,119,934 paid on account of interest and bonds.

No Distress Among Farmers.

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 20.—President Van Horne of the Canadian Pacific railway denies the report which emanated from Europe that general distress exists among the farmers of the northwest. He says the fact that the farmers have been able to hold an immense quantity of grain for higher prices is in itself sufficient contradiction of the report.

Acts Against the A. P. A. Condemned.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 20.—The American Protective association ended its annual convention yesterday. The most important business after the election of officers was the discussion of acts against members and agitators of the organization. Resolutions condemning the attack on Major Simms at Kaukauna, Wis., were adopted.

HIS NOTE PAYABLE IN THE DIM FUTURE.

WILLIAM TEN EYCK OF BRODHEAD IN JAIL.

He Offered to Sell Charles Matthews' Team and Gave Matthews a Note Signed by Henry Grabbett, a Fictitious Tobacco Buyer and to be Paid "Tomorrow."

BRODHEAD, Jan. 20.—William Ten Eyck must stand trial in the circuit court for swindling Charles Matthews, a Juda young man, out of a team of horses. Ten Eyck agreed to sell the horses if Matthews would take a note for the amount. Matthews agreed to the proposition and Ten Eyck started off and soon returned with the "buyer," who was introduced as "Henry Grabbett," a large tobacco dealer of Brodhead. "Grabbett" gave a note for $80 "payable tomorrow" and Matthews was happy until he found that no such man as Grabbett was known in Brodhead and that "tomorrow" never occurs in the eyes of the law.

R. G. DUNN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

Issue of Bonds Seems to Aid Business—Rapid Improvement Looked For.

JOLIET, Jan. 20.—The brutal murder of Nellie Byron has been avenged. The law has taken its course and Ernest Lecore has paid the dire penalty. Yesterday morning at 10:36 o'clock he was hanged in the Joliet county jail.

The prisoner passed the night as well as could be expected, considering it was to be his last on earth. For many days he has devoted much time to prayer and scripture reading, and he was assiduous in these practices yesterday. He took his last leave of his mother yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She bore up with remarkable fortitude, but when the end came she had to be almost carried from the jail.

At 7 o'clock Lecore ate his last meal. It consisted of three boiled eggs, a small slice of ham, some toast, and strong coffee, of which the doomed man drank several cups. At 8 o'clock Lecore dressed for the execution. With evident effort he sustained himself, though several times he was on the point of collapsing. A stimulant buoyed his sinking courage and he proceeded with his toilet, donning new clothes throughout. Dressed for the execution Lecore spent half an hour with his spiritual adviser. They prayed together fervently. Lecore expressed the deepest contrition and declared the hope, the confidence that atonement in this life would insure him happiness in the unknown existence into which he was about to enter. When the time for the march to the scaffold arrived Lecore's face took on an ashen hue and he faltered on his feet. He recovered himself somewhat when the officials urged him to make the best of it and die like a man, and, taking the arms of two deputy sheriffs, proceeded to the gallows.

Hundreds of farmers from Wesley township, where Nellie Byron lived, and from the adjoining townships were in town and mingled with the crowds which surrounded the jail. Many exclamations of satisfaction were heard when it was announced that the trap had fallen and that Lecore had paid the penalty. Lecore's mother will take his body to Mankato, Minn., for burial.

TROOPS PROTECT A PRISONER.

Ordered Out at Council Bluffs, Iowa, to Save Him from Lynching.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Jan. 20.—Leon Losier, the foot racer, was arrested yesterday afternoon in Omaha for assaulting a young girl and brought to the Bluffs and lodged in the city jail. At 10 o'clock a mob gathered and was addressed by Sheriff Hazen and Col. D. B. Dailey. An alarm of fire was turned in which brought a big crowd to the scene. J. H. Musselman of Topeka, Kan., and a colored man named Berger led the mob. Officers captured Musselman, but Berger got away. At 11 o'clock the Dodge Light guards were marched to the jail under orders of Gov. Jackson to protect the prisoner. A force of Omaha police was also on hand. At midnight the crowd about the jail was small and no further trouble is feared.

Arbitration to Be Tried.

RIO JANEIRO, Jan. 20.—It is generally understood here that Rear Admiral Benham, commander of the United States fleet in the harbor, came to Rio on a mission of arbitration. There are many indications that such a mission, if earnestly undertaken by him, will be successful.

French Trade Largely Decreased.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The returns issued by the board of trade covering the year 1893 show that the imports decreased 251,830,000 francs, as compared with those of the preceding year, and that the exports decreased 251,116,000 francs as compared with those of 1893.

Small-Pox Story Denied.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Messrs. James E. Ward & Co., agents of the New York and Cuba mail line, say that the report that the Seguriana's passengers have landed at Vera Cruz and that twelve more cases of small-pox have developed on the steamer is an error.

A. P. A. IN POLITICS AS SEEN BY HOARD.

EX-GOVERNOR WRITES OF THE SECRET ORGANIZATION.

Says He Is Not a Member and Does Not Believe in the Order's Mode of Procedure—Neither Religion or Place of Birth Should Be a Factor in Politics.

Ex-Governor Hoard has written this letter to Father Campbell, a Catholic priest of Elroy:

FORT ATKINSON, Wis., Jan. 12.—Rev. James Campbell, Elroy, Juneau county, Wis.—DEAR SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 5th inst., in which you refer to a recently published statement by the governor of Wisconsin containing among other things a statement to the effect that a certain society known as the A. P. A. or American Protective Association, has been espoused and is propagated by those who were supporters of the Bennett law in a late gubernatorial campaign in this state and appealing to me as in a measure an exponent of the party which espoused that measure for further information in relation thereto. In reply I beg to say that so far as my information extends there is no warrant whatever for the statement made by the governor. I am not a member of the society, have never been solicited to become a member, and do not know, except by rumor, who are members or what are the purposes of the society. So far as I can judge from these rumors, the membership of this society includes a goodly proportion of men who, in the campaign referred to, were professedly opposed to the so-called Bennett law; and if the purposes of the society are in any substantial degree as set forth in current publications or as commonly in conversation, they are in no respect consonant with the principles embodied in that law or animating those who upheld it. The Bennett law, as you must know, and as will be universally conceded sooner or later, did not antagonize or oppose in the remotest degree any man's religious beliefs or practices, much less did it proscribe any man on account of such beliefs or practices. Its sole purpose was, and its only effect would have been, to provide that the future citizen of the republic, without regard to race or religion, should be able to read and write the language in which the laws of the republic are written and its public business transacted.

If the A. P. A. or another society seeks to proscribe or to honor any man politically or socially on account of his religious belief it is certainly to that extent un-American, and can have neither my sympathy or my support in so doing. The keystone in the arch of American liberty is the total separation of church and state, and there should be no interference directly or indirectly in the affairs of the one by the other. Neither religion nor place of birth should be a factor in politics either one way or the other, and I have little respect for the politicians who seek to array and mass and vote church members or nationalities for or against parties or individuals. It is proscription in either case, and as un-American and inexorable on the one hand as on the other. Yours very truly,

W. D. HOARD.

Clearing Sale at Ziegler's.

Until Feb. 1, we will offer all children's suits at $2.50 that formerly sold at $5. $6 suits, sold at $3; all $6.50, $7 and $8 suits at $5. #### The Puzzle Solved.

Perhaps no local disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most noxious and disgusting of the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cure of chronic catarrh by any of the many modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising. No druggist is without it.

Closing Out Sale.

At the great mortgagee's closing out sale of the Columbia, 2 and 4 Milwaukee street on the bridge, goods are almost given away. Prints from three to five cents; gingham 4¢ cents; cotton flannels wide and good for four cents; cloaks at one-half former price. Boots and shoes all go the same way. This is an opportunity of a lifetime, and you should come at once before the stock is closed out and see what you can buy cheap.

Modern Woodmen, Attention!

The Modern Woodmen will give a free literary entertainment and supper for the Woodmen and their families at Liberty Hall on Tuesday evening January 23. Come early and bring your lunch baskets and join with us in having a good time.

KELLY TO HANDLE HIS OWN STABLE.

WORLD'S GREATEST DRIVER LEAVES SALISBURY.

Directum Goes With Him and Will Be the Star of the Janesville Man's String Next Season—Will Come East Next Season With a New Lot of Flyers and a New Manager.

John Kelly, the world's greatest driver, will have a stable of his own next year with Directum at the head for he and Monroe Salisbury, the most phenomenally successful trotting-horse campaigner in America, have agreed to disagree. Kelly will not drive the Pleasanton string of trotters this year. His time expired and no arrangements could be made for 1894 between the two men. Kelly made a wonderful record for himself during the time that he drove for Salisbury. In 1892 Flying Jib and Direct were the reigning pairing stars. Last year the extraordinary record-breaking performances of Directum made the name of Kelly a household word wherever the trotting horse has a hold. Salisbury has had many famous drivers in his employ. John Goldsmith took Directum east for the master of Pleasanton. He was succeeded by Andy McDowell, whose victories with Margaret S. and Cricket were the talk of horsemen at that time. McDowell was also the first man to bring out Direct. Then came George Starr, who also did wonders with the Pleasanton trotters. He was succeeded by John Kelly.

Many Drivers Wanted Directum.

All the horsemen in the country wanted to drive and handle Directum who is now the champion that is expected to beat Nancy Hanks' time next year. Mr. Salisbury, it was stated last season, did not use the black horse just right and Mr. Green, the owner, was not satisfied. Salisbury had tried so many experiments in shoeing etc., with other horses thereby causing them to lose valuable purses to slower animals and Mr. Green did not like the plan.

Kelly has been more successful than any driver that has handled Directum and Mr. Green told him last year that he could have the horse, this season if he did not return to Salisbury's care. Kelly will campaign through the grand eastern circuit with a string of California trotters, with Directum as the shining star, and it is said that a son of Mr. Green will be the manager of the stable while Kelly is in charge. This story only corroborates an occurrence which took place in Chicago at the time of the Northwestern meeting at Washington park.

"If Kelly leaves Salisbury," said one of his friends, "he will take Directum with him. I saw a telegram from Green, his owner, which stated Kelly could have the horse next season should he and Salisbury break off."

Monroe Salisbury has not yet selected his string for the east, but Flying Jib and Direct are both to go along, bar accidents. Little Albert will not be taken east, but will be trotted in the free-for-all classes in California.

THE CHILDREN'S ROOM.

How peaceful at night
The sleeping children lie,
Each gentle breath so light
Escaping like a sigh!
How tranquil seems the room, how fair,
To one who softly enters there!
Whose hands are those unseen
That smooth each little bed?
Whose locks are those that lean
Over each pillowed head?
Whose lips caress the boys and girls?
Whose fingers stroke the golden curls?
Whose are the yearning eyes,
And whose the trembling tear?
Whose heart is this that cries,
Beseeching God to hear?
Whose but the mother's, in whose face
Love shows its sweetest dwelling place?
Her hopes in beauty bloom,
And heaven sends down its light,
Which lingers in the room
Where mother says, "Good night."
Soft treading by the sleepers there,
Her very presence seems a prayer.

WILL AND I.

I had been sitting at my desk for a full hour, engaged in the laudable occupation of doing nothing. In spite of my trouble, what wonder then that I drifted off into reverie, and my thoughts reverted to sadly pleasant retrospect? Once more it was winter—the sunny New Orleans winter—and Will and I were together. I recalled the hours passed in reading and writing and music; the drives and walks and theaters. The most minute and trivial incidents recurred to my mind, and I found myself smiling at the recollection of a certain long, narrow, phenomenally dark passage or alleyway on Royal street, up which we glanced one night, and which Will, with his bright and quick sense of humor, immediately christened "Jack the Ripper's court."

This is not a sensational story that I am about to tell. I warn my readers in advance that there is nothing startling or wildly romantic in it. From start to finish it is a simple "true tale." And yet it was romantic too. There was a tinge of romance, after all, when Will asked me to become his wife, to marry him in secret. We had been betrothed for a year, and he was far from strong. His health was undermined, and a horrible fear oppressed him that he would be taken away. In the prime of his manhood, with life and hope and happiness all his, it was an awful thought.

"Constance," he said one night as we stood on the moonlit gallery, with its luxuriant rose vines and the great yellow roses clambering up to shake down their showers of fragrance in our faces, "my darling, be my wife now! Why should we wait, dear one? There is nothing between our lives and happiness but the bugbear of poverty, and I shall have a fortune when I am 30. I shall be 30 next September, Constance, if—if I live."

Something in the sweet, tender voice made me glance up swiftly into the brave, dark eyes. Beautiful, tender eyes, where are you now? Where are you today, O Will! Hidden away forever from the sight of my eyes, from beyond the clasp of my arms—gone, gone—I feel it, believe it—to that

Beautiful, veiled, bright world,
Where the glad ghosts meet.

Something in his voice made my heart ache.

"Why do you speak so sadly?" I asked him. "Never mind the fortune, Will. I care nothing for that, if you are only spared to me."

"I know it, dear, tender little heart," he answered softly. "You are the only true woman in the world, Constance. But I wanted to tell you (I am superstitious, I admit it) it was prophesied that I shall die before I am 30."

"Nonsense!" I cried sturdily, "that is sheer superstition, and it is very wrong to believe in it, dear. No one knows the future. I would never think of that again if I were you."

I tried to smile as I spoke—to shake off the strange feeling that would oppress me, try as I might—but all in vain. Die before 30! My true hearted, noble Will, with his sunny smile and tender dark eyes! I would not believe it. It was absurd. So I laughed at his fears as foolishness and tried to make him forget. But he was far from strong, and that one glimpse of what might be in store for us—the awful parting that might come—made me decide. So I promised that night to become his wife at once and "in secret and silence," as the old song says.

Everything was made ready, and on the following night—the night before his departure—we were quietly married in a quaint little old church in one of the retired streets of New Orleans. And Will and I belonged to each other for time and eternity.

The sad parting came next day—and he went back to his northern home, while I returned to my work, brightened only by the hope of meeting in the summer at quiet Long Beach.

I am not a superstitious woman. I had laughed at Will for his own dread of the supernatural and his belief in a prophecy, but we had not been parted a whole month when something very curious happened. Will had written to me every day, such dear, sweet letters that they did my heart good—kept it alive, in fact.

But for those letters I would have given up my hold upon hope and would have succumbed to despair.

But one day no letter came. I felt a strange sinking at the heart—an awful sense of depression; darkness gathered over my life. Suspense—hope deferred; these are the two emotions which serve to kill the human heart, to darken and blight existence. That night I went out on the little gallery where we had passed so many happy hours. The moon was bright, and one star shone in the blue vault above my head—one that Will had long ago designated "our star." My heart was crushed and heavy.

I stood leaning against one of the columns which supported the gallery, the scent of the roses that he loved floating all around me. And as I stood there, something—a light touch—fell upon my shoulder. A cold breeze crept over my cheek, like a breath from the grave.

I turned my eyes, and there before me in the cold moonlight stood Will—my husband.

With a wild incredulous cry of delight and rapture, I flung my arms about him—only to grasp empty air! No one was there! Will was gone!

I fell to the gallery floor and lay there like a dead woman.

When I opened my eyes, the moon was shining down upon me, just as calm and cold and imperial as ever. I struggled to a sitting posture and gazed wildly about me. What did it mean? I was not at all superstitious, yet I felt that I had seen my husband that night, just as truly as I had ever beheld his face in my life.

The next day—no letter, and the next, still no letter. Oh, the anguish of hope deferred!

The time had come now for me to go to Long Beach, as I had promised him. I would keep my word—no matter how hard it might be, I would go there. If he—if that hideous prophecy had really come true—at all events, I would keep my promise—my last promise to him. So I went. Oh, the long, dreary, interminable days, with only the monotonous waters before me, the blue, blue sky and golden sunshine always the same. It made my heart faint and sick. I had written and written letter after letter. Still no response. I felt that he was dead. And no one could tell me, because how could his friends in the far distant north know aught of the southern woman whom he had secretly wedded? And so the dreary, endless days dragged by, and I still lived, heartbroken and helpless. I will never more laugh at superstition, never.

Last night I saw him again. I had gone down to the beach in the moonlight and walked slowly and sadly up and down the white stretch of sand at the water's edge. All at once I saw another shadow mingle with my own upon the moonlit beach. I came to a halt and saw at my side—Will.

With a wild cry I attempted to grasp his arm, but there was no one there. I went back to the house and passed the night in pacing up and down the floor like a mad woman.

Today is his thirtieth birthday, or would have been, but I feel that my darling is no more; that the visions I have seen were warnings sent me of his fate. Would Will have ceased to write me—his beloved one—if he were alive? I believe that I shall see the phantom once again, and then—then—I shall go, too, for I feel that it is his spirit that has come back for me.

So I have been sitting here in the morning sunlight thinking of the past. Can one wonder greatly that my pen lies idle and utterly refuses to produce the love tales of others? Is not my own love story as sad a one as I can ever write?

I hear the sound of wheels and glance listlessly from the open window at my side. A carriage has stopped before the gate. Two men are assisting a third to alight. They are bringing him slowly up the walk to the house. He is evidently very ill. Why does my heart throb so weakly? I am too weak to stand—to take a step forward. Oh, I will not allow myself to be deceived by mad, vain hopes!

They reach the house at last and assist the feeble form up the steps of the broad gallery into my presence. Oh, pitying heaven! It is Will—Will, pale and spectral, a weak, frail invalid, but Will all the same. It is some time before I fully recover from this trance of happiness, and then the truth is made known. He had been very ill with brain fever. No one could write to me because they knew nothing of me or my address, and he was raving in delirium. As soon as he was able to attempt the journey he had set out to return to me.

It was all ended now—that dreary separation. Upon his thirtieth birthday, oh, so happy and hopeful, my Will had come back to me, never to leave me again!

"I shall never more laugh at any one for being superstitious," I said the next day, gazing into the deep, dark eyes of the loved one so happily restored to me. "Thank heaven that my superstitious fears were not realized."

I have never been able to account for that strange illusion. To this day I cannot make up my mind what it was that I had seen.

But it was not Will's ghost, and that is all I care to know, after all.—Toronto Mail.

Can Catarrh Be Cured!

Can the Deaf be Made to Hear

Can the Blind be Made to See

These are Three Leading Questions that just now agitate the public mind and inspire the afflicted with hope. In answer to the first question

= Dr. H. A. McChesney, =

Says Emphatically Yes, the same as any other disease that is caused by impurities in the blood. The doctor treats this aggravating disease scientifically, and rarely ever fails to give permanent satisfaction. In answering the second question,

Can the Deaf Be Made to Hear?

He says just as Emphatically, Yes, where the deafness results from catarrhal trouble, or any other, that does not destroy the drum of the ear. The doctor claims that 90 per cent. of all the deaf people are curable, and he fully substantiates this claim by the people that he is now treating at his office in the Wilcox Block. As to the third question

Can the Blind Be Made to See?

He says Yes, in many cases. He claims that Cataract, Cross-Eyes and many other diseases of the Eye are readily cured, and that thousands of people who wear glasses could throw them away after proper treatment.

Doctor McChesney's office is thronged with patients every day, and he is meeting with wonderful success. He does not attempt impossibilities, but he does treat special diseases in his line scientifically, and his patients give him the strongest endorsement. The doctor is permanently located in Janesville, and the people are not slow to recognize his skill.

COLLEGE GIRLS' FUN.

How the Venerable Prof. Was Served by a Gang of Freshwomen.

"They may talk about the college boys and their hazings and tricks, but for real genuine fun you can't beat the college girl," said a young freshwoman to a New York Advertiser writer the other day. "Last year—you know the men's college is right near our seminary, and so they call on us every evening—the president made a new rule.

"He declared that we must dismiss our guests at 9:30, and we decided we would not do it. After a great deal of plotting and planning we hit upon a delightful plan, and it was a great success. The boys secured a big basket and two ropes and a pulley for us, and this we hid during the day and at night fastened two great hooks on the sill of our study window. The boys sent up their cards in the basket, and then after inspecting them with a lantern to make sure they were not burglars, we hauled them up.

"But one night the grave and dignified president caught us and planned a little surprise for us. He found one of the boys' cards in our rooms and placed it in the basket. It worked beautifully, and we hauled him half way up before anyone thought of using the lantern.

"Then Miss Flyaway held it out of the window and took a peep at him. One glance at the spectacles and bald head was enough. It was lucky for that president that we did not let him fall to the ground in our horror and amazement, but we held on to the ropes until we decided what to do.

"We couldn't let him down again, he would only come up and catch us, and we couldn't drop him, bad as he was, and we certainly didn't intend to help him carry out his plan by hauling him up, so we compromised by securing the ropes and letting him hang there in midair.

"He begged and implored to be let down, offered us any bribe we could wish for, and wasted more eloquence on us in the first hour than he did during his yearly lectures. But we had no visitors that night. He amused us and we wanted revenge, so we left him.

"He tried to jump, to climb down the wall and up on the rope, but failed in everything. At last he howled, yelled like an Indian, till everyone in the town was aroused, and even the boys turned out to see the terror of their worst nightmares, crimson with rage, suspended in mid-air in a clothes basket."

Utilizing the Moths.

Few persons suspect that the common moth may be utilized as a decorative artist, but he may be, if only one be watchful, patient, and acquainted with the creature's habits. The larva of the moth has a habit of spinning above itself a sort of sac from the material upon which it feeds. As the worm grows it enlarges this sack by the process of splitting it and inserting new material. Now, if a moth-worm that has enclosed itself in red flannel be afterward transferred, sac and all, to white flannel the growing insect will slit its red flannel covering and enlarge it with a portion of the white flannel. If, then, the worm and the sac be transferred to blue flannel, the creature will in course of time enlarge the sack with blue flannel, and thus clothe itself patriotically in red, white and blue. Entomologist Southwick of the park department, says that it is no great trouble to put a moth-worm through this performance.—N. Y. Sun.

Wooden Whalers no Longer Useful.

The old fashioned whaling ships have been practically ousted from the whaling industry in the Arctic ocean by the new steam whalers. They have been trying to hold out against very great odds, but the disastrous experience of the past two years has convinced most of the old skippers that their day is past, and the greater number of the old whalers did not fit out last season. While more whales were taken in the Arctic last season than ever before, the catch of four steamers being 217, eighteen sailing vessels failed to take a single whale, and nearly all were losers by the season's trip. Fifteen sail whalers tied up at Oakland this winter, which threw about 500 men out of employment and caused many thousands of dollars to be unspent.—New York Sun.

"Then why do you look so gloomy?"

"What of it?"
"That shows that he's going to leave."

Flavor of Eggs.

The flavor of eggs depends very much on the kind of food given to the poultry. When hens are fed largely or almost exclusively on milk the yolk is of lighter color, the white has a milky look, and the whole egg is watery and less firm in texture than those laid by grain fed hens.

G. A. R. NOTICE

We take this opportunity of informing our subscribers that the new Commission of Pensions has been appointed. He is an old soldier, and we believe that soldiers and their heirs will receive justice at his hands. We do not anticipate that there will be any radical changes in the administration of pension affairs under the new regime.

We would advise, however, that U. S. soldiers, sailors, and their heirs, take steps to make application at once, if they have not already done so, in order to secure the benefit of the early filling of their claims in case there should be any future pension legislation. Such legislation is seldom retrospective. Therefore it is of great importance that applications be filed in the department at the earliest possible time.

If U. S. Soldiers, or their widowed children, or parents desire information in regard to pension matters, that should write to the Press Claims Company at Washington, D. C., and they will prepare and send the necessary application, if they find them entitled under the numerous laws enacted for their benefit. Address:

GAME AND GAMESTERS.

The annual report of Lieutenant C. L. Collins, inspector of small arms practice in the department of the Colorado, states that the competitions in target shooting have shown that men with light blue eyes rank highest, followed in their order by dark blue, slate blue, light brown, dark brown and black. In the colored troops light blue eyes again stand at the top. He further says that tall men shoot more accurately than short men.

Three young girls of Chestertown, Md., went hunting and to their dismay were successful to the extent of a big bear. Two of the girls beat the world's woman's record for tree climbing, but the other emptied her gun at the animal, disabling it, then loaded and fired again, until the bear lay dead.

Some days ago a dog, while chasing a fox near Plymouth, N. H., pushed his head between two ledges of rock in such a way that he could not withdraw it and four hunters worked all day and night with drills to release him. It was then found that he had chased a hedgehog and was covered with quills.

The speed of the fastest railway train is only a little more than one-half the velocity of the golden eagle's flight, that bird having been known to make 140 miles per hour.

The condor soars higher than any other known species of bird, spending nine-tenths of his life floating about at a height of over three miles.

Two hunters went out in the woods from Abbeville, Wilcox county, Ga., a few days ago, and bagged eleven possums in two days.

JUST FOR FUN.

She—George, dear, I cooked these muffins myself this morning. He—I'll eat them if they kill me!

"Well, Anna, have you found the rose for my hair yet?" "Yes, madam; but now I cannot find the hair."

He, pleadingly—Would you love me if I were rich? She—I can't say as to that, but I'd probably marry you.

When a fellow tells his best girl she is the light of his life, it stands to reason that they don't need any gas.

Fair Maiden, during an exciting melee at foot ball game—Oh, look there—can't Jack hug just beautifully!

Inquiring Child—Papa, why do people cry at weddings? Papa, abstractedly—Because, dear, most of them have been married themselves, I suppose.

"Papa says every state has a political ring, and I guess it's so, because the geography shows it." "In what way?" "The towns are all represented by dots, but the state capital is always a dot with a ring around it."

Bangs—Mrs. Papeleigh is all broken up. Her husband went out for a walk with her pet dog a week ago and nobody has seen either of them since. Bangs—She must feel terrible over it. Bangs—Yes. She said she raised the dog from a pup.

Wife, drearily—Ah, me! The days of chivalry are passed. Husband—What's the matter now? Wife—Sir Walter Raleigh laid his cloak on the ground for Queen Elizabeth to walk over, but you get mad simply because poor dear mother sat down on your hat.

An Unseen Enemy

Is more to be dreaded than an open and visible one. The subtle and lurking foe, which under the guise of malaria manifests itself, when it enters its insidious grasp, in the various forms of chills and fever, bilious remittent, diphtheria, and ague, can only be effectively combated by fortifying the system against its insidious attacks with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a thorough antidote to the poison of malarial fever, and a safeguard against its return. In the event of a malarial attack, avoid poisoning your system with quinine, and use instead this wholesome remedy, unobjectionable in its nature, more efficacious than any drug. Use the Bitters for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, and all complaints and rheumatism.

A. Golden, Druggist, Birmingham, Ala., writes: "Please publish some of the testimonials I have sent you for Japanese Bitters." Sold at Smith's pharmacy.

HE FOUND A JEWEL.

AND A JEWEL ABOVE THE PRICE OF DIAMONDS AND RUBIES.

He Sought For It a Very Long, Long Time—Until at Last He Found It Right at His Hand Within Easy Reach.

When a person finds a jewel of great value he always desires to tell his good fortune.

So it is with Mr. Norman C. McLean, of 65 High street, Norfolk, Va., whose good fortune prompts him to give for publication the following interesting facts:

"For some time," he said, "I had been suffering from nervous and physical exhaustion. I felt weak and nervous and was tired all the time. I had trouble with my bowels and pains back of my shoulders. I passed sleepless nights and when I would get up in the morning I would feel so tired that I had not energy enough to go anywhere or do anything."

"While looking over the newspaper, the Norfolk Virginian, I saw the photograph of a young man and a letter telling what great good Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy had done him."

"Well, I immediately got a bottle of this remedy and here is what it has done for me."

"You have seen a swimmer make a head-long dive into the water and come quickly up, buoyed up by the water. Now this wonderful medicine acted on me like the water on the swimmer—it buoyed me right up, and very quickly at that."

"Now whenever I lie down I can go right to sleep. Where before I looked white as any sheet and weighed only 135 pounds, and now I weigh 160 pounds and my face and complexion are natural and healthy."

NORMAN C. McLEAN.

"My nervousness is all gone and the pains back of shoulder blades, spots before my eyes and tired feeling have left me. My bowels are all right, do not have cold feet any more, nor any more hard beating around my heart, nor do I have to stop to rest while going to work."

"In fact I am well since taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and am stronger than ever and I can do more work than ever before in my life."

"So you see how fast and quick it acted on me, and at least twenty other people have told me how badly they felt and how this medicine has made them as strong and full of life as ever. It is the remedy to cure, every time."

Mr. McLean is right. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the greatest and most certain cure for disease known in the world today. By its use he found the most priceless of jewels—health; and by its use you also can regain your health and strength."

It is purely vegetable and harmless and is the discovery and prescription of the eminent physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th street, New York, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic complaints. The doctor can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

A World's Fair Calendar.

Anyone who has ever seen one of the "Keeping Everlastingly At It" Calendars issued by N. W. Ayer & Son Newspaper Advertising Agents, Philadelphia, is ever afterward very hard to please.

That for 1894 is a rare combination of beauty and utility—large enough to be seen, handsome enough to be admired and sensible enough to be respected. He would indeed be a queer person who would be unwilling to "keep steady company" with it for a year.

We would call this "A World's fair edition" because of its numerous references to that wonderful event. Its ingenious suggestions on this subject will doubtless be helpful to many who visited "the white city."

It is easy to credit the statement that an increasing number of these calendars is sold each year. The price delivered (and well delivered,) post paid to any address is 25 cents—evidently a tax for protection only, as at this figure there can be no profit in it for the publishers.

First Grip Microbe—"How's business?" Second ditto—"Well, I think this heavy work I'm doing will lead to grave consequences."

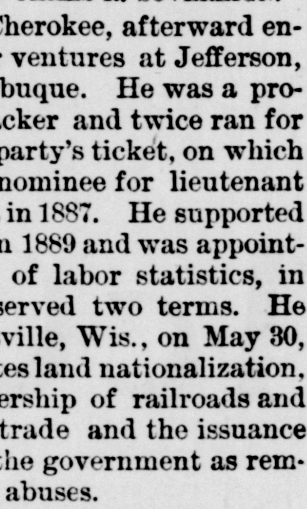

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is always within the bounds of reason because it is true; it always appeals to the sober common sense of thinking people because it is true; and it is always fully substantiated by endorsements which, in the financial world would be accepted without a moment's hesitation.

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES.

The Knights' New Leader.

John R. Sovereign, the new grand master workman of the Knights of Labor, has been a member of the order since 1881, and has been state master workman of Iowa for several terms and many times a delegate to the general assembly.

Mr. Sovereign was a stonecutter up to about 10 years ago, when he undertook the publication of a weekly paper at Cherokee, afterward engaging in similar ventures at Jefferson, Atlantic and Dubuque. He was a pronounced Greenbacker and twice ran for congress on that party's ticket, on which he was also the nominee for lieutenant governor of Iowa in 1887. He supported Governor Boies in 1889 and was appointed commissioner of labor statistics, in which office he served two terms. He was born in Cassville, Wis., on May 30, 1854. He advocates land nationalization, government ownership of railroads and telegraphs, free trade and the issuance of all money by the government as remedies for existing abuses.

I Was Very Nervous

During the spring, my appetite was poor, my bowels in bad shape, I had no strength, could not sleep even when I was tired, and when I got up in the morning I felt more tired than if I had walked 20 miles. In fact, had no energy at all. I was urged to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and can say what thousands have said before, that it worked wonders for me—gave me strength, appetite, vigor and energy for work. I feel now that life is worth living. I am so grateful to Hood's Sarsaparilla that I feel it my duty to write this voluntarily.

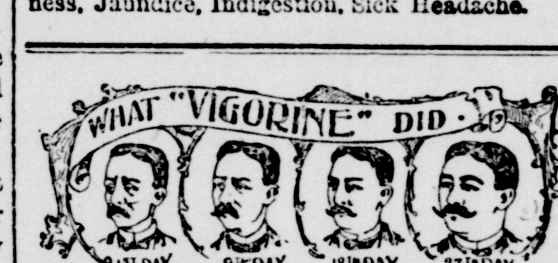

MR. DOHERTY.

Did You Ever

Have "that tired feeling" come over you when you saw shamelessly displayed in bold-faced type that hoary mercantile chestnut, "Selling out at Cost?" The expression is about as old as deception—some say it originated with Ananias—anyhow it is preserved in the hieroglyphics and cuneiform inscriptions of cities whose merchants have been dust and ashes for a thousand years. Our prices, when compared with some others, are Less Than Cost.

The Second Week of Our Break-Down-in-Prices Sale.

Interest increases as the sale progresses. People know a thing or two.

NEW POINTS GIVEN IN THE STONE CASE.

E. F. CARPENTER AND DR. W. O. COFFEE TESTIFY.

The Doctor Thought Mrs. Stone Afflicted With Melancholia.—Mr. Carpenter Tells of Getting In and Out of the Cistern.—The Defenses' Experts Finish.

Dr. W. O. Coffee's deposition was read in the Ashton case today. In it he said he believed Mrs. Stone was suffering from melancholia. She had said to him that she often felt as if she would be better dead and that she had nothing to live for.

Edwin F. Carpenter testified to getting in and out of the Stone cistern and closing the door behind him, and swore to seeing B. F. Dunwiddie and George Schoolcraft do the same thing. A conversation in which Mrs. Stone said that "she had nothing to show for her work," and that she "would war on Stone clear to Janesville if he didn't stop going to Ashton's," was also given. The witness said that at the time of the interview Mrs. Stone "had a look in her eye that made the blood course up and down my spinal column."

Mr. Carpenter testified that the physicians who made the first post mortem examination used considerable force in so doing and that Dr. McMannus lifted the sternum with both hands, exerting himself sufficiently to slide the body along on the table and that when the sternum did not break, he held the body by the right shoulder with one hand while with the other he lifted the collar bone and finally broke it "making a report almost like a pistol."

Dr. Faville Tells His Story.

Dr. H. B. Faville, of Chicago, was on the stand for cross-examination in the case during the day. Dr. Faville was until lately a Madison man, but is now professor of medical jurisprudence and adjunct medical professor in Rush medical college, while in another college he holds the chair of professor of medicine. In addition he is lecturer on medical jurisprudence in the Wisconsin University law school.

"Have you heard the evidence of post mortems and the removal of the body from the cistern?" he was asked by Mr. Hyzer in the direct examination.

"I have."

"Assuming the testimony that you heard to be true, when were the injuries apparent upon the body of Mrs. Stone inflicted?"

"After death."

"Upon the same statement of facts, what in your judgment was the cause of death?"

"So far as I have an opinion it is that she was drowned."

"Are there in the evidence any distinctive signs of strangulation?"

"None."

The application of the force in removing the body would in Dr. Faville's opinion dislocate the clavicle; injure the small parts and induce the appearances described. That answers he continued, included his derivation from the description of the blood given. If the rope was tied about under the arms and the body drawn up and obstructed by something, the position of the rope on the trunk would depend upon the force used. Its tendency would be to go upward.

Flesh Torn After Death.

Dislocating the clavicle in a dead body would result in a more or less tearing of the surrounding soft parts which would rupture the veins more or less and the blood which they contained would pass out into the tissues. Blood that effused after death would clot more or less.

"What effect would the force described in this case have upon the ribs?"

"If it drew upon them it might fracture one or more of them according to the force."

The distinctive signs of drowning depend largely upon whether the person struggled or not. Dr. Faville said. "Ballooning" of the lungs was the result of the struggle for air. The amount of water in the lungs varied. The absence of water does not prove that death was not by drowning. From post-mortem conditions the witness could not tell absolutely the difference between an injury inflicted before or after death from external observation alone.

Rope Might Dislocate the Clavicle.

On cross-examination he said that the outlines of this discoloration afforded no reliable evidence.

The dislocation of the right clavicle was caused by the rope crowding the shoulders together. Leaving the assumption that the rope slipped up, which the testimony did not show, the doctor thought force enough was used to dislocate the clavicle. Actual experiments had showed him the dislocation could be accomplished by compression of the shoulders. As was disclosed by the testimony the doctor was unable to judge with any certainty as to whether the injuries were ante-mortem or post-mortem. With Dr. Faville's testimony the experts for the defense finished their work. Dr. E. F. Woods and Dr. Q. O. Sutherland not being sworn.

Dr. William Fox, whose testimony preceded that of Dr. Faville gave substantially the same opinions. Both he and Dr. Faville were examined very thoroughly.

To Whom It May Concern.

You are hereby notified that I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife, Bertha Graf.

NOTES FOR A WINTER EVENING

Now for the Burns' anniversary on the 26th.

HAVE you noticed that beautiful enlarged picture in Wise's show case? THE furniture bought by Reed's Comedians will be given out to-night.

FRANK G. STEVENS and wife, of Chicago, are visiting Janesville friends.

A CHATHAM street man has a tombstone of somebody's ancestor for a doorstep.

DON'T pass Wise's show case without looking at that enlarged picture of two children.

EVERYBODY in town seems to be talking about that enlarged picture in Wise's show case.

THE Fourth ward man who tried the faith cure for his rheumatism was cured of his faith.

MISS ALLIE LOWELL of Chicago, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lowell for a few days.

POPULAR prices, gentlemen fifty cents and ladies twenty-five cents for the Light Infantry masquerade.

SOME west side people who believe that one swallow makes a summer, are digging up their gardens already.

E. O. KIMBERLEY is sick with the grip, in Evanston, Ill., but expects to return to Janesville in a few days.

DON'T waste your money on inferior work of agents, but get one of those beautiful enlarged pictures of Wise.

REED'S Comedians had another big house last night. They finish their engagement at the Myers Grand to-night.

FREE concert at Lowell's hardware store to-night. Nothing too good for his customers. No fake, but a rich musical treat.

EVERYTHING was inflated before the panic. Lowell goes right along, however, making trade by genuine deals in actual values.

PROF. SWILER of the School for the Deaf and Dumb at Delevan, has been in the city, the guest of Superintendent Lynn S. Pease.

MRS. SARAH C. LITTLE of Oberlin, Ohio, formerly superintendent of the school for the Blind in this city, is visiting friends in the city.

WE should smile. Have you seen the display in Lowell's hardware store? It's enough to make one wish he was keeping house.

REV. HENRY FAVILLE, of La Crosse, suffered a stroke of paralysis a few weeks ago, but according to late advices he has nearly recovered.

JUDGING from the fearful and wonderful manner in which the average wedding cake is made, it is no wonder that people should dream on it.

HENRY B. RONEY, choirmaster of Grace church, Chicago, is in the city, and is endeavoring to make arrangements to give a concert in the near future.

REV. JAMES SIDDELL of St. John's church, Milwaukee, former rector of Trinity parish, will officiate in Trinity church tomorrow exchanging pulpits with Rev. W. H. Wotton.

THE special sale of the finest pictures art can produce at Stratton's, the Janesville Art Store will close tonight. Don't fail to make a selection while you can get them at fifty cents on the dollar.

J. H. GATELEY has placed an order book for coal and wood with Palmer & Stevens, and Brownell & Clemons. Leave your orders with them and they will be promptly delivered. Janesville Coal Co., J. H. Gateley, Manager.

A RECEPTION will be tendered Mrs. S. C. Little and Miss Alice Little by the Laoni band of King's Daughters, Wednesday evening, Jan. 24, at the Congregational church parlors. All of their friends are cordially invited to be present.

AT Archie Reid's big cloak sale you can get an elegant beaver jacket, full skirt, Worth collar edged with electric seal, collars black, havana and tan, sizes 32 to 40, value $15, price for the cloak sale, a five dollar bill.

MALCOLM G. JEFFRIS will deliver the address on Robert Burns at the Armory next Friday evening when a splendid oration may be expected. Gov. Peck will also take part in the program which is of unusual excellence and variety.

J. W. WEISEND, of the Boston Clothing House, will remove from his present store on Monday evening into his new store in the Phoenix Block, opposite the postoffice, formerly known as Burns & Boland's dry goods store and will be ready for business on Tuesday morning at the new store.

THE Concordia Society will give a grand masquerade ball at their hall February 6. This will be one of the grandest society events of the season. Extensive preparations are being made, the best music has been engaged, and the pleasure that will be given you, on the evening of the sixth of February, can only be realized by participating.

SINCE January 1 we have been selling cloaks at half price and giving a muff free with every garment; but commencing next Monday we propose doing still better, and all on account of the big purchase made at Wednesday's auction sale in Chicago. Cloth garments, plush garments, every one of this season's make at less than half price. Archie Reid.

THE sale of hats, caps, gloves, mittens and gents' furnishing goods, continues at Holmes, No. 8 on the bridge. Cost cuts no figure in this special case. As a rule a business house cannot sell for cost or less, but as one of the partners has withdrawn from this business, he must be paid, consequently everything is being sacrificed. Go quick ere the opportunity is lost, and what you want is gone.

MRS. PALMER SIGNS TOO MANY CHECKS.

FORMER JANESVILLE WOMAN
ARRESTED IN CHICAGO.

Her Connection With the Woman's Baking Company Ends in Her Arrest.—Constable Finds Her in Bed and Puts a Guard Over Her.—The Charge is Embezzlement.

Mrs. Ada J. Palmer, formerly of Janesville, and until recently one of the directors of the Woman's Baking company, was placed under arrest yesterday afternoon on a warrant sworn out by Miss Mary Sanderson, the new secretary and treasurer of the company, on a charge of embezzlement. She is alleged to have taken a check for $26.52.

The troubles of the baking company have attracted much attention of late. When the warrant was sworn out yesterday it was given to a constable who found Mrs. Palmer apparently sick in bed. Mrs. Palmer declared the other women had her arrested to keep her from having a receiver appointed. She protested her inability to get out of bed in order to secure a bondman and Constable Cerf called in a deputy, and placed him on guard over the prisoner for the night.

Mrs. Palmer's maiden name was McKee and she was born and brought up in this city where she married Charles Palmer, a son of Hon. Andrew Palmer. Her marriage proved unhappy, and by the professional assistance of ex-Senator Doolittle she secured a divorce. She then moved to New York, where she was engaged in business for several years before coming to Chicago, as a better field for her talents, a year ago. She is possessed of three or four valuable patents, obtained, as she says by her own invention. One of these is for the manufacture of a seasoning for cakes, which she calls "fairly breath extract" and the others for machines for mixing, sterilizing, and canning cakes, pudding and pastry. Her business consists in pushing these patents.

W. B. Jerome Charges Forgery.

Mrs. Palmer organized a joint stock company in New York on funds supplied by W. B. Jerome of Chicago. Mr. Jerome was a schoolmate of Mrs. Palmer in her girlhood in Janesville, and advanced these funds partly through friendship and partly because he believed the business if well managed would be profitable.

Jerome now says to a Chicago Tribune reporter that she "lied to him and about him in the most ungrateful and exasperating manner, forged his name to $9,000 promissory notes, and paid him checks for $200, $450 and $2,600 on banks in which she did not have one cent of deposits, the largest being drawn on the Hyde Park bank." The forged paper consisted of three notes for $3,000 each, on two of which, Mr. Jerome says, she forged the signature. On the other, Mr. Jerome says, she placed his name and that of Judge R. S. Tuthill as indorsers.

"Kiting" Checks in Chicago.

Mrs. Palmer's contract with the Woman's Baking Association was for the use of her patents. It was stipulated that she should be given $2,000 worth of stock, that she should be made a director, that she should be paid a salary of $3,000, that she should be manager of her department, that should receive one-half of the profits from it, and that when the three years the contract was made for ended the association should buy her plant and patents for $50,000 in money or $50,000 worth of stock as she might elect. From the very first, the Tribune says, the air was full of worthless checks. She drew a check for $500 on the Northern Trust Co. bank in favor of Judge Doolittle for securing her divorce. The astute jurist smiled all over and handed her $50 change, and she withdrew. This check was soon returned marked "no funds." Similar experiences are said to have befell Attorney Robertson Palmer, Manager G. H. Elliott of the baking company, Mrs. E. L. Emmons, Siegel, Cooper & Co., Attorney Halsey, Thomas J. Hayes and others. The checks ranged in size from $50 to $450. Mrs. Palmer enters a denial to the whole charge and says she can prove her innocence in court.

A Card to the Public.

On Monday evening, January 22, will close my business at the present stand, corner West Milwaukee and Jackson streets, known as the Boston Clothing House, and will open on Tuesday morning my new store in the Phoenix Block, opposite the postoffice, formerly known as Burns & Boland's dry goods store, with a complete line of clothing for men, boys, and children; also, men's furnishing goods, hats, caps &c. I tender my thanks to all those who have given me their patronage during the four years I have been in business at the present stand, and will hereby extend an invitation to them and all the citizens of Janesville to call on me at the new store, which will be known as Weisend's Clothing Store, and I shall give them the same cordial treatment they have received from me at the present stand. Respectfully, J. WEISEND.

Just For Fun.

We will sell any pair of ladies' or gents' fine shoes in the house for one week at the uniform price of $1.98. There are shoes worth 3, 4 and $5. We are not making this offer to get rid of old stock, as we have none—nor are we selling out or moving, but simply for the fun of it. Don't miss this we can fit any foot.

THE BER HIVE, 53 West Milwaukee street.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

GET a sample of Grubb Bros. 50 cent India tea. You will have no other.

THE busiest place in town is at Grubb Bros. That 50 cent tea is the popular favorite.

THAT 50 cent tea of Grubb Bros. is guaranteed to equal any dollar tea in the city in packages.

WE have an elegant line of heavy winter shawls, which we are determined to close out some price before the 1st of March. See them. T. P. Burns.

THE N. O. W. club have placed tickets on sale at Smith's drug store for their sixth annual masquerade. Invitations must be presented by those wishing to get tickets.

SEE the line of cloaks we are showing at $2.00, worth four times the money but don't fail to see the cloaks we offer at $5.00 which is only a fourth of their real value. T. P. Burns.

Owing to the increased call for vaccine points, we shall receive them fresh from the farm at Fond du Lac, every Thursday, and will always have fresh ivory points on hand for vaccination. Heimstreet's drug store.

Nobody seems to want the hundred dollars offered by Grubb Bros. if they could not furnish you a tea at 50 cents a pound as good as that offered by others at $1.00 a pound in packages. Everybody, including the dealers, concede that Grubb's is as good.

ALL those knowing themselves indebted to the Boston Clothing House are requested to pay their accounts this week at the store to J. Weisend or his clerks, as the store will be closed next week. J. Weisend, proprietor Boston Clothing House.

MERCHANTS TIRED OF HIGH RATES

Non-Board Insurance To Be Discussed at Monday Night's Meeting.

President W. T. Vankirk means to make the Business Men's Association an active force. He has called a meeting of the officers and directors for Monday evening, and insurance rates will be among the topics discussed.

"We are paying altogether too much money," he said to-day. "Many business men whose insurance is just now expiring, will not renew at all in the board companies unless concessions are made. A good many will give their business or a large portion of it to the non-board companies. There is no use parleying with this matter longer."

SAYS SHE IS NOT INSANE.

Man Who Knew Marion V. Dudley in Janesville Makes Affidavit.

An affidavit from a former Janesville man as to Marion V. Dudley's sanity has been filed in the Milwaukee courts. It is from George B. Griffin who says he has known Mrs. Dudley thirty years. She boarded at his home in this city and is now his guest at Windsor, Florida. From present observation based upon long observation he is satisfied she is perfectly sane.

The Correct Time.

A ship chronometer is the only instrument in existence that does not vary in time. They are perfect, no clock or watch has ever been purchased that will equal them. Instead of consulting the regulators in the different jewelers' windows, go to F. C. Cook's window and consult the chronometer, you will find it at the west window. This is the only chronometer in the city. Mr. Cook has had it in actual use for the past eight months and it has not varied the fraction of a second. The guaranteed rating of a chronometer is seven tenths of a second a month, but this one has not varied even that much in eight months. Mr. Cook has charge of the regulating of all the watches of the employees of the Chicago & Northwestern road at this point, and he in order to have the correct time, put in a chronometer. No other time can compare with it, as it is absolutely correct at all times, the different changes of the weather having no effect upon it whatever. Set your watch with it and you will always be right.

Clean Shirts.

No difference how old or worn one's clothes may be, if he has a clean shirt, cuffs, and collar on he will present a neat and tidy appearance. It costs but little to look well, and you will then always command an audience. In order to have clean collars, cuffs and shirts you must patronize a laundry that can do the best work, as the best is always the cheapest. A well laundered shirt will remain clean much longer than one that is poorly done. The Janesville Steam Laundry is acknowledged by all to do the finest work. No complaints are ever heard in regard to their work. Try them and you will be convinced. All goods called for and delivered.

Why Not Get the Best?

Experience, proper qualifications, and modern appliances combined for the correct adjusting of spectacles to the eye is what has made S. C. Burnham one of the best, if not the best optician ever in Janesville. His work and goods are the best, he never fails to give satisfaction, and when you find the sight given you by nature failing, don't hesitate, but go to S. C. Burnham & Co's., the jewelers and music dealers, and let them aid your eyesight with a pair of spectacles. They can fit any eye.

Church Has Lived for Fifty Years.

Baptists in the town of Union will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their church next Wednesday.

DR. WHITING WOULD BE A SLATE SMASHER

HE IS SUGGESTED BY DEMOCRATS FOR GOVERNOR.

J. A. Watrous, of the Milwaukee Telegraph, Reviews a Conversation With a Bower City Leader Regarding the Physician's Chances for Gubernatorial Honor.

"Yes, I suppose it is all right for Congressman Somers, Barwig, Brickner, Wells, Lynch and Barnes to cook up a ticket down in Washington for us democrats to meet in convention and confirm," said a Rock county democrat "but I wish some one would send them word that it will not go down, this year; that the rank and file propose to have more of a voice in making the next state ticket than we have been accorded, in the past I have nothing against W. C. Silverthorn, but our six democratic congressmen should not assemble in Washington, a thousand miles from the battle, and toss him upon our shoulders as the candidate for governor without as much as 'if you please, gentlemen of the democratic host.' Old Rock will present a man for governor. He is the equal of any man the democrats of Wisconsin ever nominated, and in some respects the superior of the best of them."

Janesville Man Would Run Well.

"The man I mean" said the speaker "is Dr. J. B. Whiting, a resident of Janesville since before the war. He's a man of fine intellect, wide information, the very soul of honor, clean, able, popular. I think he never held public office, unless you except the three years he was in the army and the short time he was mayor of Natchez, Miss., by appointment. He is an impressive public speaker, thinks before he speaks, would be safe as a candidate and as a governor. His democracy? It is the old fashioned, patriotic, out and out United States kind, more than a yard wide, has never shrunk and will wear to the end of his life. There are no cloudy spots on his character; the more our folks learn about him the better they will like him. A graduate? Yes he came from the college of the millions, the public school, and in his young manhood was a teacher."

Was a Bragg Democrat.

"Dr. Whiting is a man eminent in his profession, has been president of the State Medical Association, is a member of the Grand Army, and was very anxious to see General Bragg, whom he considers as one of the brainiest men in the state, elected to the senate last year. That's the kind of a man and democrat our candidate is, and that's the kind of a man our party needs this year to head the state ticket. Push him? You bet we will push him, and nominate him, too."

Colonel J. A. Watrous reports this conversation in today's Milwaukee Telegraph. He says concerning the source of his information; "my democratic friend has a state reputation, was in the legislature and has been a leader in his party for years. A wholesome move is being made to make Dr. Whiting the candidate for governor."

Attention, Railroad Men!

Friday being pay day on the Northwestern Railroad, the attention of railroad men is called to the closing out at cost sale at the Boston Clothing House, corner of Jackson and Milwaukee streets, during this week; and as this will be the last week of the cost sale at said store, I have employed extra help for Saturday, and the store will be open from seven o'clock in the morning until 11:30 p. m. If in need of clothing or furnishing goods, it will pay you to take advantage of this bona fide cost sale. Respectfully yours, J. WEISEND, Proprietor Boston Clothing House.

"Why?"

Why scrub till you get red in the face when you can send your family washing to the Riverside Steam Laundry. We call for them, bring them back in a day or two. Thirty cents per doz. rough dry, or fifty cents per doz. ironed. They wear longer, look better and you will regret you had not sent them before. CHAS. A. STANTON.

A Puff Ball.

I was walking one day in the woods Looking for ferns and flowers. When a "puff ball" I saw on the ground. Which I picked up and kept for hours.

I was pressing it in my hand, When it burst, and all flew away—Down to the earth, whence it came, And unnoticed would forever lay.

I likened it to someone I knew, Who thought they were great and grand; But on close examination I soon found They were like the "puff ball" in my hand. ABBIE A. FORD.

SOMEWHAT HUMOROUS.

Somewhat Paradoxical.
"So you used to be in business for yourself, eh?" asked the business man. "How does it happen you are looking for employment?"
"I guess I wasn't up to business ways," answered the plain man. "Every time I failed I made a failure of it."—Indianapolis Journal.

Two Confessions.
Mrs. Nuwed—I want to confess something to you, dearest. I deceived you about my age; it is more than I told you.
Mr. Nuwed—Then I may as well reciprocate, darling. I deceived you about my income; it is less than I told you.—Harper's Bazar.

Learning from Experience.
"Do you believe," he said, as he tenderly stroked her hair, "do you believe that a deep, abiding love like ours can ever die out?"
"Not now, George, I don't," she responded. "But it always did in my previous engagements."—Chicago Record.

To Be Sure.
Customer—Among the other items on this bill you've got "four and a half hours' work." You worked just exactly four hours by the clock.
Paperhanger—Yes, sir; but it took me half an hour to make out the bill.—Chicago Tribune.

Fate.
Rollie—I wish I didn't like candy, mamma.
Mamma—Why, Rollie?
Rollie—Why, because then I suppose people would give me lots of it.—Harper's Young People.

Poor Man.
"Yes, Jodder is somewhat cross and disagreeable, but he is a constant sufferer from salt rheum."
"I know that, but I'd rather have his rheum than his company."

Letting Off Her Feelings.
The maid was mad, and a frown she wore, When her mother reproved her with rigid air;
And, as she dared not bang the door, She went upstairs and banged her hair.
—N. Y. Press.

Matrimonial Advertisement.
"A lady, young, pretty, bright and poor, desires to make the acquaintance of a man with the opposite qualities, with a view to a happy marriage."—Fliegende Blaetter.

There's No Such Girl.
We don't remember ever meeting a girl whose shoe was not a mile too big for her.—Athenian Globe.

The greatest worm destroyer on earth is Dullam's German Worm Lozenges, only 25 cents per box. For sale by Palmer & Stevens.

Scrofula, whether hereditary or acquired, is thoroughly expelled from the blood by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

Buy Dullam's German 25 cent Cough Cure at Palmer & Stevens.

Rigorous Training.

"Josiah," said Mrs. Cornstossel to her husband, "do you reckon that our son Hiram will learn to play this game football while he is at college?"
"I don't see why he shouldn't."
"Well," said the old lady, "in that case he may do a good deal toward makin' home happy when he gets here. The way he ort to be able to handle tramps is a caution."—Washington Star.

Respect a Bigger Man's Rights.
Mudge—Fellow called me a liar last night.
Yabsley—What did you do?
Mudge—Well, he weighed about two hundred pounds, so I just told him that I recognized his right as an American citizen to a free expression of opinion and let it go at that.—Indianapolis Journal.

IN CHICAGO, OF COURSE.

She (a visitor from Philadelphia)—You haven't any ancestors.
He (a native)—Maybe I ain't, but I've got four fathers, and they're all living, too.—Brooklyn Life.

A Sticker.
"There," said a citizen to another, pointing to a prosperous-looking merchant, "there is an instance of the success of clinging to one line of business."
"What may his business be?" inquired the other.
"He manufactures glue."
"Oh!" exclaimed the other, "I see! No trouble in sticking to that."—Texas Siftings.

Her Life History.
At four she wanted bonbons.
At eight she wanted gum.
At twelve she yearned for novelties.
At sixteen, beauty—yum-yum!
At eighteen she became engaged.
Like many other misses,
And wanted spoony tete-a-tetes
And scores and scores of kisses.
At twenty she was married—
Big wedding, rich and tony,
At twenty-two, alas, alas,
She wanted alimony.
—Kansas City Journal.

Advice.
"I am a poet," said the young man resolutely.
"Indeed?" replied the kind-hearted but absent-minded editor.
"Yes. And I came to see if you will not give me a trial."
"Dear, dear! My good fellow, I wouldn't bother about a trial. I'd just plead guilty and take my chances."—Washington Star.

A Blessing Indeed.

What would this poor, weak humanity do were it not for those strong noble restless spirits who are ever searching the caverns of knowledge for the good of mankind? Dr. Greene of 35 W. 14th street, New York, who a few years ago gave to the world that priceless boon, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, has now introduced another blessing for the sick and suffering. He is the most successful specialist in curing all nervous and chronic diseases, and he offers to everyone, far and near, the opportunity of consulting him, free of charge, through his system of letter correspondence.

Write him about your complaint and send for his symptom blank, and he will return you an exact explanation of your case with advice, free of charge, and tell you how you can be cured. He gives most careful and explicit attention to all letters, and his answer always gives the sufferer a perfect understanding of the disease. If you wish to avail yourself of this great physician's skill write him at once about your disease and you will undoubtedly be cured.

About a year ago I took a violent attack of la grippe. I coughed day and night for about six weeks; my wife then suggested that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. At first I could see no difference, but still kept taking it, and soon found that it was what I needed. I got no relief from one dose I took another, and it was only a few days until I was free from the cough. I think people in general ought to know the value of this remedy and I take pleasure in acknowledging the benefit I have received from it. Madison Mustard, Oway, Ohio. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. Palmer & Stevens, Druggists.

Winter Tourist Rate Via The North-Western Line.

The North-Western line is now selling winter excursion tickets at greatly reduced rates to points in Florida, Texas, Mexico, New Mexico, Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama. In most cases these tickets are valuable for return passage until May 31, 1894, and they afford an exceptionally favorable opportunity for a visit to the famous winter health and pleasure resorts of the South. For tickets and full information apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R.

It will astonish you how quick Johnson's Magnetic Oil will kill all pain. Sold at Smith's pharmacy; 25 and 50 cents.

If you are worn out, run down and nervous. Magnetic Nerve will restore your health. Sold by E. O. Smith, pharmacy.

You will be pleased with the mild and lasting effects of the Japanese Liver Pellets. Try them. Sold at Smith's pharmacy.

Quickest Route to California.

If you desire to attend the Midwinter fair at San Francisco or any part of California, and wish to make the trip in the quickest and most comfortable manner, be sure that your ticket reads via the Chicago & Northwestern, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Rys. Palace Drawing Room Sleeping Cars leave Chicago daily and run through to San Francisco via Council Bluffs, Omaha and Ogden without change, in three and one half days all meals en route being served in dining cars. Tourist sleeping cars, offering an exceptionally favorable opportunity for making the trip in a most comfortable and economical manner, are also run, and completely equipped berths can be procured by passengers holding either first or second class tickets, at a cost of only $4 per berth from Chicago (or $3 per berth from Council Bluffs or Omaha) to San Francisco and other California points. Variable route excursion tickets and first and second class one-way tickets are now on sale via the Northwestern line at extremely low rates. For tickets and full information apply to agents Chicago & Northwestern railway.

A Contractor's Advice.

Dullman's German Medicine Co.; Gentlemen! I take great pleasure in testifying in behalf of Dullman's German Blood, Liver, and Kidney Cure. I can safely say that I never took such medicine as that to cleanse my stomach and kidneys. I was suffering for years with biliousness, indigestion and loss of appetite and sleep. One bottle of it did me more good than six months' other treatment, and I feel it my duty to testify in its behalf, so others may try and get cured.
Yours truly, Mrs. McDonald, Miland, Mich.
For sale by Palmer & Stevens.

Catarrh In The Head.

Is undoubtedly a disease of the blood and as such only a reliable blood purifier can effect a perfect and permanent cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier, and it has cured many very severe cases of catarrh. Catarrh oftentimes leads to consumption. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla before it is too late.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Why It Pays to be A Gazette Reader:

Because the coupons printed every day afford the only means of securing SHEPP'S "WORLD'S FAIR PHOTOGRAPHED," except by paying from $5 to $7 for the volume.

Because thrilling installments of CAPTAIN CHARLES KING's famous story "FOES IN AMBUSH" appears daily.

Because THE GAZETTE is the only Janesville paper that gives its readers a telegraphic news service. It summarizes the world's doings for the day in time for evening reading.

Because THE GAZETTE spends more money than any paper in Wisconsin outside of Milwaukee to make its local news bright, reliable and complete.

It is said that if a wart is rubbed with the pared surface of a freshly cut potato three times a day it will disappear within a month.

A house, modeled in the Japanese fashion, is nearly completed at Salem, Mass. It is said to be the only Japanese dwelling in the country.

The women of Belgium and Holland are noted for their snowy linen; they attain the desired result by the use of borax, a handful to ten gallons of water.

A difficulty has arisen about the election of a mayor at Hythe, Kent, England. None of those selected will accept office and steps will have to be taken to compel some one to serve.

When Mr. Justice Gould was trying a case at York, England, he noticed that there were but eleven jurymen. "Please, my Lord," replied the foreman, in answer to a natural inquiry, "the other juror has gone away about some business, but he has left his verdict with me."

A beggar in a buggy is causing much mystification to the people of Knox county, Me. He is a typical tramp in appearance and demeanor, and has been for a week or two driving about the country begging food at the farm houses. The farmers have not yet made up their minds whether he is a thief or a lunatic.

The mayor of South Norwalk, Conn., Mr. Lockwood, not only did not oppose his wife's application for divorce, but furnished evidence upon which it was granted upon statutory grounds. Then the churches of the town went for the young mayor with such vigor that he has resigned the office, and is expected to move out of the town.

The ancient fort of Old Harbour, island of Jamaica, West Indies, which was a place of considerable importance a hundred years before New York was settled by the Dutch, was reopened recently. Old Harbour was the first port established in Jamaica by the Spaniards soon after the discovery of the island by Columbus on his second voyage in 1494, and was for a considerable period the principal port of the island.

Lucie Sam After The Sugar Trust.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 20.—Argument was begun yesterday in the proceedings brought by the government to have set aside as illegal the merging of the Philadelphia sugar refineries into the sugar trust. The government claims the Sherman anti-trust law has been violated and further contends that the American Sugar Refining company is a monopoly and that the contracts made with the Philadelphia refineries were in aid of a monopoly. The answer of the trust is that it is not a monopoly and that the Sherman act is unconstitutional.

George W. Childs Much Better.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 20.—George W. Childs' condition is improved greatly. He is resting quietly and may be able to come out Saturday to attend the memorial services for A. J. Drexel. It is claimed Mr. Childs' illness was due to indigestion. So assuring is his condition that L. Clarke Davis, managing editor of the Public Ledger, has gone to Florida.

have a horse or horses that they don't want. We want one or two carloads—say a carload of good work horses and a carload of good drivers. We have building lots that are sure to advance from 10 to 20 per cent. within two years; we have a good many of them; we will exchange enough of them to pay for horses enough to fill two cars. If you prefer houses we have six good ones for sale and will take half the price of any of them in horses.

We must buy this stock right and will sell you the real estate very low. Call and see us.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

Something that we do.

We buy and sell farms. We exchange city property for farms. We buy and sell city and village property or we exchange city property for any kind of personal property. We buy for cash or real estate any kind of stocks of goods. If you are in the dry goods, hardware, grocery, jewelry, crockery, boots and shoes, or general merchandise business and want to get out, you can sell out to us and get cash and good real estate. We loan money on real estate at right rates. We make loans for other parties. Whatever you have, whatever you want to do in the way of dealing, you go wrong unless you come to us. It seems so to us.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.
